Reinforcing Our Class Values at Home: Caring Hearts, Honest Minds

Reinforcing Our Class Values at Home:

Caring Hearts, Honest Minds

Encouraging Honesty:

- At school, we work on creating a space where honesty is valued, but we also need your support in encouraging your child to tell the truth, even when it's difficult.

Teaching Respect for Others:

- Respect for peers is another cornerstone of our classroom environment. We encourage them to express themselves respectfully and to solve problems peacefully.

Taking Responsibility for Actions:

- In our class, we encourage children to take responsibility for their actions. It's important for them to understand that acknowledging their mistakes helps them grow and learn.

Caring for School Property:

- We also talk about the importance of respecting and taking care of school property. When students treat their own belongings and those of others with care, it reflects a strong sense of responsibility.

Supporting Your Child Effectively At Home

Spelling Practice

- Set aside a few minutes each day for them to practice their weekly spelling words. (English spelling starts in Term 2.)

Handwriting

- Encourage neat handwriting by practicing letters and words together.

Mental Calculations

- Try some fun math games or simple mental calculations with your child.

Reading Together

- Spend time reading with your child every day, even if it's just for a few minutes. This builds their vocabulary and comprehension skills.

Supporting Positive Behaviour and Responsibility

Your child is still learning how to manage their emotions and responsibilities. Here are a few specific areas where your support at home would make a significant difference:

- Managing Distractions and Behaviour
- Being Prepared for Class
